Description

Anders Andersen Lundby (Danish School, 1841-1923)

Andersen-Lundby was born on 16th December 1841 in Lundby, a town near Aalborg in Denmark. In 1861 the artist went to Copenhagen to pursue his artistic career, he stayed there for several years living within the vibrant artistic community. Andersen-Lundby moved to Munich in 1876 where he exhibited his works virtually every year. For the most part the artist painted winter landscapes often depicting late afternoon sunshine or dusk. His works are very atmospheric, and his technique became very impressionistic towards the latter part of his life. Today his work can be seen in the museums of Copenhagen, Munich and Trieste.

Dated 1871. Oil on canvas. Signed & dated lower right.
